Middlebury Student Views Recorded In Annual CAMPUS Questionnaire

College Votes 3-1 in Favor Of Continued Action For Peace

REPUBLICAN PARTY IN MAJORITY HERE

New Major and Minor Plan Fails to Meet Full Approval

Middlebury students registered their opinions on eleven topics concerned with college and national problems Friday morning in chapel in the annual questionnaire conducted by the CAMPUS.

Voting on the first question, regarding the advisability of continued participation in the annual student peace demonstration, established a three to one majority in favor of conducting such activity. Opposition in the women's college was particularly light.

For the third successive year a better than two thirds majority of undergraduates expressed approval of the proposed substitution of a student tax on term bills to replace class dues. An even larger proportion approved the publication of financial reports of organizations in the CAMPUS.

The new plan of choosing fields of major and minor study at the end of the freshman year was supported by slightly more than a half of those voting, although the senior men and the sophomore and freshman women ballotted against the change.

A slight gain in the support of the Republican party over previous years was indicated in the voting. Democratic and Socialist votes remained approximately the same. The Democratic party has a three to one chance of winning the fall elections, however, if the results of the questionnaire are a fair test.

Dr. Haile To Give Lecture Tuesday

Forum Will Sponsor Talk Next Week on League of Nations in Mead Chapel

Dr. Pennington Haile, assistant to the director of the League of Nations Association of America, will speak in the Mead chapel Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. on the subject "Is the League of Nations Dead?"

The lecture is to be sponsored by the women's forum. The speaker will discuss possible reorganization that may be necessary to restore the prestige of the League of Nations, lost during the Italo-Ethiopian crisis and other critical situations that have developed since the World War.

Dr. Haile is well versed in League affairs, having studied at Geneva for several months. He did voluntary work in New York on League matters. He received his Ph.D. at Harvard and later was an instructor at Dartmouth. Next year Dr. Haile will be on the staff of the League of Nations Association of America as assistant director.

According to a college regulation, lectures cannot be scheduled during reading week, but special permission has been granted for this program. The affair is open to all students and there will be no admission charge.

This will be the last of a series of several talks sponsored by the women's forum this year.

A second performance of "Hay Fever" at the playhouse, at 8:15 this evening, is the forerunner of the weekend. The play is a comedy in three acts, by Noel Coward. The cast of nine students has been coached by Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds.

Activities commence tomorrow at 2 o'clock with a baseball game with the University of Vermont on Porter field, and a tennis match also with Vermont at the Hepburn courts. JUNIOR WEEK, 1937 EDITION

For the seniors the last relaxation before the final drive for comprehensives, for the whole college the climax of the social season at Middlebury, such Junior week has been in the past—may it continue this tradition this year. There is little need to catalogue the many and varied activities of the long weekend, athletic contests, dances, and dramatic presentations are well know to all. Attention must be called, however, to the opening of Forest hall for inspection.

"Rain on Tuesday, fair on Friday", so runs the old adage, or at least a convenient corruption to fit the occasion. So may we, on the eve of Junior week, echo the oft repeated hope for a smile from the weatherman to set the keynote of the occasion.

To expect that our wish may add one whit to the enjoyment of the weekend is a bit presumptuous. But from the opening curtain of that harbinger of spring, Noel Coward's "Hay Fever", to the concert on chapel steps Sunday evening, may the participation of all make this a memorable holiday.

To guests and visitors we extend a sincere welcome, to everyone we say "Let joy be unconfined" for this, the 1937 edition of Junior week.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

In the last few years the League of Nations has passed through a test of a severity unknown in its previous history. The Japanese invasion of Manchuria, Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, and Germany's occupation of the Rhineland have clearly shown its strength and revealed its weaknesses.

Though the membership of the United States in the League is unlikely in the near future, merely to raise the question of our relation with it clearly calls attention to the problem which we and the other great powers are facing at the present time. Shall we continue on the road of super-nationalism, or will a solution be found to the problems of international cooperation?

That nationalism is both costly and dangerous is certain. A glance at the war budgets of the United States and the other powers proves that such a policy is expensive in the present. Its danger was adequately proved by the history of pre-war Europe with its resultant World war.

Yet the League at the present time is entirely unable to prevent, or to serve as a satisfactory substitute for nationalism. Minus the support of Germany, Italy, Japan and the United States, it is in grave danger of becoming merely an instrument to protect Great Britain's colonial empire, and France's hegemony on the continent of Europe. For the United States to enter at the present time would merely place us in alliance with the League powers, opposing the non-members.

The problem of international cooperation and its failure in the last few years lies deeper than the League. The widespread decline in democratic government, and the growth of dictatorship has caused the new growth of nationalism. Until autocracy shall be dealt a crushing defeat, we can hope for little from either the League, or any other organ of international cooperation.

Unless dictatorship can be checked, unless the League be recast as an effective weapon against war rather than as a mere instrument of collective security for France and England, the United States has no alternative but to follow the road of isolation and nationalism.

CURRENT GLIMPSES

—by John Francis Darrow '37

DID YOU KNOW??? That a $12,000 a year oil company job in China went begging at the University of Wisconsin last year, because graduates thought they could get work in US??? And that oil experts predict shortage of petroleum in from five to eight years??? And that US chamber of Commerce actually doesn't represent "big business."??? That little is left of $500,000 appropriation, given last year, to investigate A. T. & T.???

TAXES—Corporation tax, proposed in House, meeting setbacks. Chances now are that bill will be altered greatly. Senator Byrd points out that under measure as now worded, companies like A. T. & T., American Tobacco Co., General Electric, Goodyear Tire, International Harvester and others would be exempt—and bill aims at large corporations.

REVOLT—Mention made in this column of march of Jersey unemployed on state building and occupying it. Press report now states that jobless in Pennsylvania and Missouri have done same act. FDR claims business is better, as does Chamber of Commerce Figures show more employed than in 1933. Fact remains that those still unemployed constitute danger, and many observers fear results if great improvement is not noticed soon.

ITALY—League officially recognized delegate from Ethiopia, thus indicating that it did not recognize Il Duce's claim that Ethiopia was no more. Italian delegate walked out in Al Smith fashion, when League acted. Actually, recognition or not, Italy has Ethiopia. Problem is how to gracefully save England's face—recall that sanctions are still against Italy. US State department worries, as its representatives do not produce good results. Advice to US home office was that Italy never could do it—many other reports also turned out false, and Secretary Hull watches more than ever.

RELIGION— Presidential campaign might be replica of 1928 fight, with religion—prejudiced, warped—entering. Good Neighbor league formed by Stanley High to bring ministers back to FDR folds. Same day this organization was announced, another, headed by William H. Anderson, who has resided in Sing Sing, was formed. Some of charges against persons in New Deal are unprintable—and they carry imprimateur of several prominent clergymen. If followed up, both organizations will give Democrats and GOP plenty of worry.

COUZENS —Senator Couzens, Michigan GOP, has supported most of New Deal legislation. Has large personal following and plenty of money. Regular Republicans in his state sore at him for not voting against FDR. Very likely that they will not renominate him for his seat. Has been suggested that he run with endorsement of Democrats on an Independent Republican ticket. Would be sure to win. Couzens could easily contribute half million to campaign. Observers declare that blundering tactics like this, of GOP, costs them support and money.

PENSIONS—Some time ago we mentioned a drive beginning for pensions for widows and orphans of World War veterans. Drive now has begun. National Tribune, nationwide vets paper, formally demanded this act. Move has more potential support than last bonus—and the $31,000,000,000 debt we now have would look small when this bill passes.

INFLATION—Lemke-Frazier bill for inflation caused stir in House. Actually, vote was to bring it onto floor for discussion. Opinion is that leaders do not want bill passed this session, but advocated it to win western votes—both Democrats and Republican of the west are playing for this support.

NOTES — New England was once Northern Virginia . . . Veterans will get their bonus bonds within a week after June 15, states Farley—near Democratic Convention . . . Lower long-distance phone rates are in the wind . . . Railroads will not contest reduced rates, in court . . . Pressure is being brought on investigation of A. T. & T. to put soft-pedal on revelations . . . GOP has plenty of money—more than in 1932 . . . Lehman losing popularity in New York . . . American companies operating in Spain have difficulty with government . . .

ELMER

—by Jigger

Dear Pop:

Cheerio, and other expressions of pent-up exuberance. Jiggerette has proven an esset — and comment! Listen my children—and you shall be mortified—

Swimming is en vogue, so it seems, and regardless of the scarcity of aqua pura in which to immerse oneself, youth will be served. Which probably explains the nocturnal bathers who were not so far away the other eve disporting themselves in aquatic merriment.—and it threatens to become a league. And just a word of warning—no high dives!

And the Slack Banders who carry on despite heated regions and high water crash the column once again with the stubborn saxophonist who played "on the level".

Pardon my southern drawl, but it seems as if the visitors from south of the Mason-Dixon created a bit of a furor on the other side of the hill—sans mint juleps, cheroots or colonial mansions—and we Nawtherners retire with regret. Anyhow, we still won the Civil war, suh. Probably they gave back the change when their femaie escort proffered the finances for the movies—and that always creates popularity—why don't you try it?

And sunbathers not so far away seem to have stirred up comment—which is really too bad. Reminding me that the "photographic feud" which I mentioned erstwhile has progressed a bit. The house which received the first slam took the R. S. V. P. cue and said something like "signs of intellect in those so juvenile is surprising"—tut, tut, don't be so sarcastic, gentlemen—

There was the man with the Scotch complex, too, who thumbed in vain for two hours without getting a ride—and then decided to use his own car—my word—how overwhelming. And prior to that formal where they served those positively venerable-looking grapes (which were really O. K.) one who was to attend queried, "Is it going to be formal—or can we wear our own clothes?" Which is well put.

Practical jokers the other eve, Pop—who must have inherited something from those bird walks. Because they enraptured people with positively divine imitations of whippoorwills, canaries etc, which sounds wafted upon the midnight air fill one with the feeling of exalted romance. But they were very disillusioning after their imitation concert was over—which was almost fatal to the enchanted audience—Life is just one broken bubble after another, Pop.

One—uh, uh, Two—woof woof, Three—woof, four pins went thitherward on the weekend eve—but one man not only retained his own but returned home with one belonging to a brother—which had previously been worn by someone else—how come, Pop?

Love,
ELMER

Dr. Tyler Dennett Speaks At Vespers

Williams College President Praises Distinction to Be Gained Only from Quality

Dr. Tyler Dennett, president of Williams college, spoke at vespers Sunday in place of the Rev. Robert L. Calhoun. He took as his text Matthew xxvii: 21-28; "The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas."

Dr. Dennett began by saying that one of the most important questions in human life is the difference between distinction from position and distinction from quality. "The desire for distinction is perfectly normal and worthy", he declared. "The important question is what kind of distinction we want".

"It is easy to get fooled in judging true distinction. A man is very often evaluated according to the house he lives in, the street he lives on, or the number of people working under him. For years authors have dedicated their efforts to rich and well known men whose patronage might lend distinction to their books. Yet if their books endure, it is not because of the patron's high position, but rather, because of the inherent quality of the works themselves.

"Perhaps the most striking example of the confusion as to distinction is the crucifixion scene of Jesus; for if asked which had the more distinction, Jesus or Pilate, probably all the young people of that time and most of their teachers would have chosen Pilate.

"On any college campus may be seen each fall the rush to acquire position. After a short time one can sort out those who work for distinction from position and those who desire distinction from quality. Twenty years later the sorting is complete, and the only ones with whom we would really care to spend our time are those whose distinction is attached to their inherent quality and not to any position they may have acquired."

Library Benefit Concert Given by College Choir

The Middlebury College senior choir offered a benefit concert program for the Isley library last Wednesday night in the high school auditorium. Miss Prudence H. Fish directed the group.

The program included several numbers: "Voix Celeste" by Alcock, "Jesu, Priceless Treasure" by Bach, "Lo, a Voice of Heaven Sounding" by Bortaniansky, "Beautiful Saviour" by Chrisiansen, "Fierce Was the Wild Billow" by Noble, "As by the Streams of Babylon" by Campian-Dett, Dett's "Listen to the Lambs", "All in an April Evening" by Roberton, "Spring Bursts Today" by van Denman Thompson, and Lutkin's "Benediction".

Vocal Recital Presented By Margaret Leach '36

A vocal recital was presented by Margaret R. Leach '36 in Mead chapel last Friday evening. Gordon E. Hoyt '36 offered two selections on the cello.

Given in four groups, the program consisted of "She Never Told Her Love" by Hayden, "Oh Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" by Handel, "Plus de Depit, Plus de Tristesse" by Gentry, "Wohin?" by Schubert, "Nur Wer die Sehnsucht Kennt" by Tschaikowsky, "Morgen" by Strauss, "Traum Durch Die Dammerung" by Strauss, "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio", from "La Forza del Destino" by Verdi; "Beau Soir" by Debussy, "Le Nil" by Leroux, "Nocturne" by Michael Head, "Sleep that Flits in Baby's Eyes" by Carpenter, and "The Last Song" by Rogers.

Delegates from Middlebury To Be Camp, Scherholz, Cady, Arnold, and Chase

Five Middlebury students will leave Friday to attend the annual spring conference of the Intercollegiate Outing Club association to be held at Newfoundlake, near Plymouth, N. H., from Friday through Sunday.

The Middlebury representatives are Howard S. Cady '3, Nelson M. Camp '37, Loring D. Chase '37, Margaret W. Scherholz '37, and Marjory C. Arnold '38. Over seventy delegates from the thirty-five member colleges of the association are expected to be present.

Middlebury Student Opinion on Eleven Subjects Registered in Annual CAMPUS Questionnaire

The suggested plan of allowing seniors to complete work in outside courses before comprehensive reading week has practically the unanimous support of undergraduates for the second year. Only sixteen votes were cast in support of the present plan. A slightly less decisive ballot approved the new college entertainment course, although many students suggested some revision of the plan on their ballots.

The continuance of the CAMPUS questionnaire was favored by a clear cut majority of students. Compulsory chapel again received substantial approval, although one third of the votes indicated desire for liberalizing the cut privileges allowed at the present time.

Both men's and women's colleges agreed that the most necessary addition at the present time is new athletic equipment. A new gymnasium headed the list of suggested improvements, the more specialized provision of a field house appearing on many of the votes from the men's college. A large proportion of the sophomore class voted in favor of a new swimming pool.

Note: The following symbols are used in classification. M37 for junior men, W39 for freshman women, MT for total of men's college, WT for women's college total, UNC for unclassified votes, and CT for the entire college total.

Malvern '37 Wins Abernethy Award

Palmer '38 and Russell '38 Given Second and Third Prizes in Library Contest

Robert B. Malvern '37, Phillips Palmer '38 and Frances M. Russell '38 were awarded first, second and third prizes respectively in the Abernethy library contest for the best essays written on the subject "Forming One's Own Library".

The prizes, having a value of twenty-five, fifteen and ten dollars, were presented yesterday morning by President Paul D. Moody in chapel. Thejudging committee consisted of Prof. Reginald L. Cook, Miss Leila A. MacNeill, and Miss Viola C. White.

The object in writing was to emphasize the importance of editions and format, rather than the contents of the books, or the importance of the authors. A minimum length of 2000 words was required. Bibliographies and all relevant material regarding the authors discussed accompanied the paper.

The three winning essays will be on exhibition in the Abernethy room for the next two weeks.

Middlebury Downs Lowell Nine; Defeated By William and Mary

The Panther nine defeated Lowell Textile Thursday afternoon at Porter field, 5-3, and lost a heart breaker at the hands of William and Mary, Friday, 1-0.

Middlebury - 5, Lowell Textile 3

With the six hit pitching of Gustafson and superb work afield, the Blue and White diamond men combined two hits and two errors in the sixth inning to break a three all dead lock and win the ball game.

Both teams scored in the first, the visitors, when Gustafson hit the first batter and Buckley and Athanas brought him home with a sharp triple to right field. Middlebury counted in its half on a single from the bat of Meacham and a double by Labouchere. In the fourth stanza and again in the fifth Coach Yarnall's boys tallied a run on two hits in each inning. The Panther evened the count in the fourth, however, on a single by Kirk and two screaming doubles off the heavy clubs of Anderson and Nash. With Gustafson holding Lowell Textile at bay for the rest of the encounter, the Blue and White sewed up the contest in the sixth frame.

Middlebury-0, William and Mary 1

Losing golden opportunities in the eighth and ninth innings to both tie and win the game, the Panther forces lost a pitcher's duel between Guild and Adams, when the former weakened momentarily in the eighth inning to let the southern team tally its only run.

Guild, ace hurler of the Panther squad, scattered five hits during the first seven innings and faltered slightly in the eighth when Moore received a free pass, stole second, and came in on Harper's long hit to left field.

On the other hand, Middlebury got to Adams for just four bingles, two of them coming in the eighth and ninth innings. Nash opened the eighth with a single and was sacrificed to second by Philipson who was safe at first on the play. Guild moved the runners to second and third with another sacrifice, and with only one out Meacham laid down a slow roller to the first baseman who took Meacham on first, and with the aid of the short stop and catcher, trapped Nash between third and home, ending the inning. Again in the ninth, Hoehn led off with a single, Lins sacrificed him to second, only to have Labouchere drop a fly into the center fielder's hands and Kirk drove one to the third baseman who tagged Hoehn for the final out and the end of the contest.

Panther Net Squad Drops Three Tilts

Courtmen Lose to Williams 8-1, Tufts 6-3, Wesleyan 8-0 on Last Week's Trip

The Panther net squad returned to Middlebury Sunday after bowing to three Massachusetts and Connecticut teams during last week's tour. At Williams the Blue and White racket men suffered an 8-1 defeat rallying only slightly Friday when they bowed to Tufts by 6-3 score and being snowed under 8-0 Saturday by a superior Wesleyan squad.

The only bright spot in Thursday's contest occurred when a Buskey-O'Keeffe doubles partnership overcame Braine and Campaigne of the Purple, scoring Middlebury's single match point. The singles play was enlivened by only two closely contested matches O'Keefe fought out three speedy sets against Dayton of Williams only to drop the final clash. Carr, most recent addition to the Panther sextet, also went down after affording his opponent plenty of resistance carrying the match into three sets. Brown, matched against Kingman of the Purple netmen, started things off well for Middlebury by taking the first set only to lose the next two in quick succession.

Journeying to Medford Friday the Panther netsters met with little better success when Carr and Tierney captured Middlebury's only tallies by taking their singles matches and doubling up to defeat an opposing Tufts duo composed of Baylies and Gibb. O'Keefe, Buskey and Brown all failed to perform in anywhere near their accustomed form, bowing after little dispute to the Tufts racket wielders. The doubles matches reflected a bit more credit on Middlebury's tennis ability but here too the Panther finally lost the majority of matches.

Playing between showers Saturday on the Wesleyan courts, the Blue and White presented small competition for the Connecticut team. O'Keefe, in spite of sickness, offered the best showing, all but taking Clark of Wesleyan in the singles but was forced to forfeit his doubles match. The last doubles test was cancelled because of rain.

Fredric D. Manchester '37 was elected president, and Edgar S. Lovell '38 secretary-treasurer, of the "M" club at a meeting of the group held Thursday evening in Hepburn social hall.

Discussion was also held regarding the establishment of two intra-mural managerships. No definite action will be taken on this question until a later date. All members of the men's college who have received a major "M" are eligible for membership in the club.

The retiring officers are Elwood A. Hoxie '36, president, and Kenneth W. MacFadyen '37 secretary-treasurer.

So What?

by Heinz

AT THIS TIME TOMORROW . . . it will have happened. It happens every year, regular as clockwork. It has become a habit, this Junior Week business. Technically, and according to the program, it started yesterday with two hours of sneezing at the Playhouse, but actually, and according to classes, it starts tomorrow at 12:30. All a-bored? Hardly.

For the last three weekends now, Middlebury has been making spasmodic attempts at going social. On each Saturday night a third of the fraternities have been holding formals, and the other two thirds have been supplying them with the clothes. Such grandeur! Now, however, this one small college gives itself over in reckless abandon to four whole days of mixed entertainment, and it's every man to his own white jacket. Hey hey!

At Two Tomorrow

Opening at 2 p. m. tomorrow, the program gets under way with a bit of baseball. As per custom, it's with the Garrulous Gauchos of Larry Gardiner in the first game of the annual home and home series. There's an odd light to these two contests. It is usually discovered, when the smoke clears, that the Catamount has taken the game in Middlebury, and that the Panther has retaliated by copping the contest at Burlington. Now, at first glance that doesn't sound logical, home field, crowd and all that sort of thing supposedly being an advantage. The reason isn't hard to find, however. It simply hinges on that southern tour that the You-Vee-Emsters make each Spring. The first game usually finds them six games ahead of Middlebury, and a like number of runs, with the second set-to revealing things a bit more even.

This year, however, may prove the exception. Evidence for comparing records is a bit incomplete at the time of writing with the outcome of the St. Michael's scoop unknown, but that makes little actual difference. One has about as much chance of picking winners by comparative scores in this league, as the Panthers seem to have of tallying runs under the present style of base running. Frankly, U. V. M. doesn't seem to be up to par, and the whole league appears to be a toss-up at the moment. With a Panther win over St. Michael's however, it would seem logical to at least pick the boys over the Catamount. A rejuvenated and questionable Norwich will be here for Friday's game, and to show the proper spirit I suppose we might give the Beautiful Boys in Blue the benefit of the doubt there too. Both should be good ball-games.

What, No Track?

So much for baseball, and what about track? Here's the case where Junior Week takes the rap. Ordinarily a home meet can be arranged for this weekend, even if it does have to be with the Montreal A. A. pending cancellation, but this year the Eastern Intercollegiates at Worcester fall at the same time, and you can't very well postpone those. The track team is the one to complain, not us. There's still another home meet, but this is the last Junior Week for at least another year, anyway.

Then there's the subject of tennis and golf. Never too popular with the mildly interested Middlebury sport spectator, these two teams plow through comparatively successful seasons year after year, and really deserve more mention than they are in the habit of getting. Here's to the netsters over Vermont on Thursday and Clarkson on Friday, but it's too bad the golfers have to fool the program to do their swinging elsewhere. Too, too bad.

Then, in a minor way there's this practice of holding an intramural meet for the boys who take their training making eight o'clocks, to say nothing of the battle of the annointed bacon, rope pulling, stunts, and the band leader with the Ipana pan. So now, see you at the Prom, and no "So What?"

Panther Trackmen Beaten By M. I. T.

81-54 Score Result of Meet In Which Blue and White Takes Only Five Events

The Blue and White trackmen were crashed 81-54 Saturday afternoon on Porter field by an M. I. T. squad which amassed the unbeatable total of ten firsts, eight seconds, and eight thirds.

The Middlebury spikemen outclassed the Massachusetts aggregation in only five of the fifteen events. In the shot put Riccio took first with a powerful toss of 39 feet 9 inches and King was second with a heave of only two inches shorter. In the dash events Williams flashed across the finish line twice in first spot to garner ten points for the Panthers, while Hoxie, hampered by a leg injury, captured two thirds. MacLean and Martin were first and third respectively in an exciting 110 yard high hurdle race which found the first three contestants bunched at the tape. Cridland, establishing a new college record in the hammer throw with a toss of 136 feet 1 1-2 inches, was many feet ahead of the M. I. T. weight-men who took second and third.

A summary of the meet follows:

100 yard dash: Williams, M, first; Nygard, M. I. T., second; Hoxie, M, third. Time: 10.2 seconds.

220 yard dash: Williams, M, first; Nygard, M. I. T., second; Hoxie, M, third. Time: 22.8 seconds.

440 yard dash: McCelland, M. I. T., first; Foster, M, second; Cude, M. I. T., third. Time: 51.7 seconds.

880 yard run: Sabi, M. I. T., first; Cooper, M. I. T., second; Bernardini, M, third. Time: 2:03 minutes.

One mile run: Guerke, M. I. T., first; MacFadyen, M, second; Cooper, M. I. T., third. Time: 4:31.8 seconds.

Two mile run: Guerke, M. I. T., first; Brooker, M, second; Scalingi, M. I. T., third. Time: 10.43.3 minutes.

110 yard high hurdles: MacLean, M, first; Johnson, M. I. T., second; Martin, M, third. Time: 15.4 seconds.

220 yard low hurdles: Johnson, M. I. T., first; Faitz, M. I. T., second; MacLean, M, third. Time: 26 seconds.

Shot Put: Riccio, M, first; King, M, second; Brown, M. I. T., third. Distance: 39 feet, 9 inches.

Pole Vault: Kites, M. I. T., first; Hoffmann, M, second; Baker, M, Skinner, M, third. Height: 11 feet, 6 inches.

Running Broad Jump: Johnson, M. I. T., first; Guarnaccia, M, second; Hall, M, third. Distance 22 feet, 5 inches.

Discus: Graham, M. I. T., first; King, M, second; Benedict, M. I. T., third. Distance: 117 feet, 10 inches.

Hammer Throw: Cridland, M, first; Kinraide, M. I. T., second; Steere, M. I. T., third. Distance: 136 feet, 1 1-2 inches.

High Jump: Ray, M. I. T., first; Hadley, M. I. T., second; Lindsay, M. I. T., third. Height: 5 feet, 8 3-4 inches.

Javelin: Brown, M. I. T., first; Brewer, M. I. T., second; D. Westin, M, third. Distance: 160 feet, 3 inches.

Golfers Beat Union Here, Bow to Colgate and Union

The Panther golf men dropped their first encounter with Union this season Thursday by a score of 6-0 at Schenectady. Saturday the clubmen journeyed to Colgate, where the Red Raiders triumphed by a count of 5-1. Monday the Beckmen met Union again on the local links, decisively downing them by a count of 8-1.

The line-up for the Union and Colgate matches, both away, was the same: a foursome consisting of Captain Neilson, Leete, Petrizzi and Ricco. Captain Neilson, Johnson, Leete, Petrizzi, Riccio, and Tribble represented Middlebury in the return encounter with Union here.

Netmen to Meet Vermont And Clarkson This Week

The varsity tennis team will encounter the University of Vermont net squad tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. here. Instead of a return match originally scheduled with the Burlington team on Friday the Panther netmen will engage Clarkson Tech at 2:00 p. m. on the Hepburn courts.

Last week the Vermont racket wielders defeated Clarkson Tech 5-2 and nosed out a close 4-3 decision over an efficient St. Lawrence net squad on the Burlington courts. In Friday's encounter with Clarkson Starbuck, veteran number one man for the Catamount, blanked Tech's star racket man, Marion, 6-0, 6-0 in a superb exhibition of racket handling.

This clash would auger well for Middlebury's chances in Fridays encounter with Clarkson. But Vermont's veteran squad seems to be in winning form and unless the Panther shows decided improvement over last week's exhibition, it is likely to go hard with the net men. However with O'Keefe back in top form and the advantage of playing on the home courts behind them a real contest would seem to be the best prediction.

Golf Sextet to Encounter Williams Turfmen Tuesday

Thursday morning four delegates will leave for the N. E. Intercollegiate golf tournament at Watertown, Mass. Middlebury will be represented in this contest by a four-man team composed of Captain Neilson, Johnson, Leete and Riccio, and will engage in matches during Friday and Saturday. The meet with Union, played Monday, was changed to allow Middlebury to compete in the intercollegiate tournament.

The Beckmen again leave Tuesday for an encounter with Williams at Williamstown. The line-up will be the same as for the intercollegiate matches, with the addition of Petrizzi and Tribble.

Trackmen Will Be In E. I. C. A. A. Meet

Panthers to Encounter Ten Eastern College Squads At Worcester Saturday

The Middlebury track team will compete against ten New England colleges in the E. I. C. A. A. meet which will be held in Worcester, Mass., Saturday afternoon.

Rhode Island appears certain to repeat its victory of last year when it amassed 56 1-3 points against 30 for the Blue and White, its nearest competitor. Rowe looks like a sure winner in both the discus and hammer throw, while Harris, who puts the shot about 42 feet, will undoubtedly place high in his event. In the pole vault Burnett can do 11 feet, 10 inches and Hunt hurls the javelin 180 feet,—both will surely be point winners. Mullen is fast in both the low and high hurdles, while Hanley, who last year did the 440 in 49.6, should score a first in the quarter-mile.

The Middmen should be strong seconds again this season. MacFadyen appears sure of a place in both the mile and half-mile, while Williams and Hoxie should be within the first four in both dash events. In the shot put Riccio and King are probable point-winners, while Cridland looks good for a second or third in the hammer throw. Hoffmann has an excellent chance of winning the pole vault if he can repeat the 11 feet 9 1-2 inches height which he did last year. MacLean in the hurdles and Foster in the 440 are also probable place-takers.

Tufts, strong in the middle distance events with Tetzlaff and in the javelin and broad jump with Bratenas, will probably take third. Fourth may go to Colby if Veysey, the Maine college's sensational distance man is in last season form.

Nine To Encounter Two State Squads

Blue and White to Engage Vermont Here Thursday, Meet Norwich Saturday

Close to top form, following their best diamond exhibition of this season, the Panther nine will turn to to local competition when they meet University of Vermont May 14 and the Norwich Horsemen May 16, encountering both teams on the home field.

Regarding the Catamount nine, it seems more than likely that the Blue and White will play superior ball. Vermont's mainstay will be Kirley, senior hurler, who has chalked up three consecutive four-hit games prior to the U. V. M.—William and Mary Clash. These games include a 4-2 loss to Virginia, a win by 6-1 over Hamilton, and a second loss to the Williams nine by 2-1. The Lakesider's bow to the William and Mary Diamond squad also appears favorable to the Panther nine, following their spectacular single-point loss.

Vermont's greatest weakness is not on the mound, since Kirley has been turning in good reports the entire season, but weak hitting and interims of loose team play have been blocking their victory chances for the last month. The lanky pitcher and Budzyna, first sacker, are likely to prove the most formidable bat-wielders.

Middlebury's encounter with the Lakesiders may see some changes in the lineup since Coach Gardner of the Vermont team promised alterations if the Green and Gold nine failed to recover from their attack of the doldrums prior to the William and Mary game. The battery will probably remain the same, with Hart catching and Kirley in the box. Shaw, Degree, and Williams have been holding down the sacks in that order, with Werner at shortstop position, and Hallinan and Funk is the garden.

As for the Cadets, their record of five consecutive wins, the last one being a 12-1 victory over St. Michael's, would seem to indicate rather stiff competition for the Blue and White nine. This win gives them a record of 2 and 0 in the Green Mountain, race.

With Comi, ace hurler, pitching consistent three and four hit games, there seems to be little weakness in the battery. As for batting averages, the Horseman twirler, Zapponi, third-sacker, and Fernandez, second baseman, present a heavy-hitting triumverate, and may be counted upon for some formidable opposition. Hicks, versatile catcher, and Butterfield, shortstop may also cause a little difficulty for Middlebury's outfielders.

Still haunted by a four year old jinx, the Panther nine lost its opening game in the State series to St. Michael's at Winooski Park, yesterday afternoon, 4-3.

Never has a Middlebury team in the last four years played the baseball afield at St. Michael's that it is capable of exhibiting, and yesterday was no exception. Gustafson, trying for his third win in as many starts on the mound, pitched good ball but he received ragged support when errors meant costly runs.

The Saints started the scoring in the fourth when that almost infallible keystone combination, Meacham and Lins, experiencing an off day, each bobbled one to place runners on first and second with none out. Rivers of the Mikemen went to third and home on a pair of fielder's choices. Jerry singled for the Mikemen and it looked like another run until Hoehn picked Jerry off from first on a throw from Nash to make the third out.

Middlebury retaliated in the fifth to tie the count on singles by Kirk and Phinney. In the Purple's half, an error, a walk, and two singles accounted for two runs. The Panther made its last offensive thrust in the sixth when Hoehn singled, stole second, and went to third on a passed ball. Lins banged another single between first and second sending Hoehn across the plate. Labouchere sacrificed Lins to second on a well executed bunt, and Kirk sent him to third with a roller to the pitcher. Anderson bounced one off from the short stop's glove and another run was home. Nash flied out to end the inning. The Mikemen tallied the winning run in their half of the sixth stanza on singles by Brown and Lessard.

The only opportunity for the Blue and White to score again came in the eighth when Lins went to first on an error and reached second on a hit and run play only to die there as Kirk grounded out.

For Coach Petras' men Lessard had a good day on the mound, allowing seven scattered hits, striking out three and giving only one free pass. Laramie at short stop handled eight chances very nicely and Rivers at the initial sack turned in a good game.

For the Panther the most encouraging aspect was the exhibition of fine pitching which Gustafson was able to present on the mound allowing only a couple of rather doubtfully earned hits to the St. Michaels' batters. In spite of two glaring errors, Lins and Meacham successfully handled thirteen out of sixteen chances. Kirk, Phinney and Lins all smashed out good hits, better in fact than the Winooski team exhibited all afternoon.

WHY KEEP THEM ALIVE
by Paul De Kruif

In my opinion De. Kruif has produced one of the most stirring indictments of American medicine and the American economic system that ever has been or ever will be written. The pity he feels for our uncared for and poverty-stricken children is transferred to the reader in a masterly fashion. Most of us are familiar with his success with the reporting of scientific achievements as exemplified by Microbe Hunters, Hunger Fighters, and many magazine articles. Here he combines his excellent understanding of modern science with keen social insight. The result is brilliant, virtually history-making.

Dr. Kruif adds even further value to his document by explaining frankly just how his mental outlook developed, why he is no longer able to be purposely blind, why his own physical comfort no longer satisfies him, why he came to hate the conditions which keep food clothing,, and medical care from so large a percentage of American youth.

The main argument of the book is based on the fact that science and medical care are for sale, and most of us can not afford to buy. Tuberculosis could be controlled, diphtheria could be eliminated, rheumatic fever could be cured; but our money goes for battleships instead.

De Kruif makes it plain that the most terrible cancer of our civilization is poverty. The poverty of the majority brings disease to all. But the elimination of disease, the feeding of our people would pay in dollars and cents. If we don't feed them, "then in the name of their misery, why keep them alive?"
